

I have been a long time listener and supporter of K-Love radio. In fact, I introduced my wife to K-Love and she is now a dedicated fan. Learning that K-Love may be forced off the air is the worst idea I've heard of. Thousands of people listen to this and other stations like K-Love because there is nothing else playing on the airwaves that is as wholesome and positive. To give other LPFM's priority over not-so-popular translators is wrong. It would break a bond that many of us share because K-Love has become a common link. Don't allow this to happen. It would be a crime to eliminate something good that helps all of us in these bad times.
